DESCRIPTION OF CATEGORIES

Animation

Animated submissions may be forms such as stop-motion, hand drawn or computer animated.

Documentary

In addition to finding a compelling story, teach the audience something. Delve into the experience. Deliver the story through such devices as reenactments, dramatizations, historical information, etc. “Research” is a unique judging criteria for documentaries.

Experimental Film

Experimental film is a creation unique to the individual such that the judges will readily understand that uniqueness. Conventional techniques or storytelling, such as a linear story, are not expected. The film should challenge traditional boundaries and the way those are understood. The filmmaker should explore film as an art form and focus on creative control of images. “Control of images” is a unique criteria for experimental film.

Music Video

Visually and cinematically depict the story of the song. Include a beginning, middle and end. Original music is a unique judging criteria for music video.

Narrative

Tell a story in dramatic or comedic form. Introduce the characters and their relationships to one another. Then, send the characters on a quest or journey. Find the conflict on the journey. Resolve the conflict. Include a beginning, middle and end.

Tourism Commercials

Tourism commercials should be 30 seconds in length, and must include the New Mexico tourism logo or the phrase “Land of Enchantment.” Students may focus on a single tourist attraction, or on several. Topics are not limited, but could include New Mexico scenery, ballooning, cultural attractions, wildlife, sports, etc. "Persuasiveness to visit New Mexico" is a unique judging criteria for commercials.
